Worship Face To Face What to Expect

Keep in mind all that we are doing is about keeping you safe and minimizing exposure while gathering together to worship our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

Making a reservation to attend worship:

Please call the church office to let us know you plan to attend worship Sunday morning. We will begin taking reservations the Monday before the worship service. Call, 516-931-2225 to let us know you are planning to attend and how many will attend.

Should you determine that you are not coming after having made reservations, please call the church office to cancel.

Note: These are unusual times which have dictated many changes in our lives. One of which is the following: In order to comply with the restriction of not exceeding 25% of our worship capacity, it is necessary to ask for your reservations. Presently, we are setting that number at 50 in attendance. When conditions improve and we are able to increase the number of folks in worship, the necessary adjustments will be made.

Before you come to church on Sunday morning:

- Make sure you have a mask to wear when you come to church.
- If you have any of the following symptoms, please DO NOT come to worship:

- Fever, coughing, shortness of breath, body aches, sore throat

When you come to church:

- Please put on your mask after exiting your vehicle.
- Maintain at least 6 feet of distance from others unless they are your family members.
- Enter Church from the doors off Nicholai Street

When you enter the church:

- You will be greeted by an usher, who will also notice if you are wearing a mask or not. For those who do not have a mask, an usher will provide one for them to wear.
- The usher will check your temperature with a non-contact infrared thermometer.
- If you have a temperature above 100°, you will be asked to leave the building. (Why 100°? This is what the CDC recommends. Asking health care professionals, it has been found that when you wear a mask, you are breathing in your own "hot" air. This can cause your body temperature to temporarily rise.)
- If you would like to use hand sanitizer upon entering the Sanctuary, there are stations available in the Narthex if you wish to use one. They are also available on your way out.
- An usher will escort you to your pew and give you a bulletin.

Note: All hymnals and writing materials have been removed from the pews. Again, the purpose is to minimize exposure.

Worship:

- We will worship our God! Albeit in a different manner than what we are used to.
- We will have music, but no singing.
- Regarding the Offering. Two boxes have been made for you to drop off your offering. One will be located just as you walk into the sanctuary as you walk to your pew. The other will be located by the Chapel door as you exit.
- Communion will conclude the worship service.
- Please take your belongings and bulletin with you to communion as you will be leaving immediately following distribution.

Communion Distribution:

- When it comes time for distribution, the usher will bring you forward pew by pew to maintain social distancing.
- The bread and wine will be available. The wine will be given by individual cup only.
- After receiving communion, you will exit the Sanctuary by the Chapel door and leave the building. (Recall the Chapel door is located by the elevator.)
- On your way out, you will find a receptacle to dispose of your cup and a trash can to place your bulletin if you are not taking it home.

Special Situations:

- If you normally enter the sanctuary by using the elevator, you will still be able to do so. An usher will be available to assist you.
- If you are late to worship, your seat(s) will not be given to someone else. You will still have a place to worship.
- In the event we have a guest for worship who did not reserve a seat for worship, accommodations will be made. We do not want to turn anyone away if at all possible.
- Should we exceed 50 in reservations, a waiting list will be made. If we find that it warrants an additional worship service because of sufficient interest, one will be considered.

Review of Services:

- Online Worship remains at 9:00am.
- Face to Face Worship begins at 10:45am.
- If interest increases for an additional Face to Face service, that service will begin at 12:00pm. to allow time for the sanctuary to be cleaned between services.

Note: There are bound to be situations to occur in which we have not planned. In those instances, we ask for your flexibility and charity in advance. These plans have been developed so that we can worship face-to-face while minimizing exposure to the virus. Keeping your good health is what has motivated us to plan accordingly. This is why we followed guidelines from the CDC, the LCMS – Atlantic District Reopening Guidelines, and your responses to the survey to ensure the safest possible way to worship and alleviate your concerns as well. These procedures will be constantly reviewed and amended as situations dictate.

To God be the Glory!

Serving the Lord with you,

Pastor Hopkins

MUSIC DURING THIS TIME OF COVID

Services together will be very different. Face masks on and only perhaps some soft humming as the hymns play. For now, this is what music making will be like during the service. What about choirs? Probably not until next year. We are all watching closely, but are very concerned about safety. While social distancing is normally 6 feet apart, if you are singing that need doubles to 12 feet apart, or some studies even say 18. That just isn't possible to have choral singing like that. The "virtual choirs" we have all seen, are studio engineered, not a real choir at all. Even the handbell choir would have to stay at least 6 feet apart from each other, which would make it impossible to play. So we will wait, wait and pray, that we will be able to return to the way we are accustomed. I am hopeful that perhaps by Christmas, or soon after, we will be able to have a choir ready to sing, but will not push any guideline to do it. The health of our singers is more important.

So in the meantime, the internet gives us many resources to listen to congregational and choral singing. I look up some of my favorite choruses like the National Lutheran Choir, St. Olaf Choir, or some from our Concordias and I listen on YouTube. If you go the St. Olaf Choir website you can sign up for their music sing for Joy Radio program information, which gives you sung hymns and anthems for each week of the church year. When we are back singing, we will do it well. I'm hoping that when all is well, we will plan a festive Hymn Festival to sing as we have wanted to since March.

I will leave you with a link for some hymns now, Amazing Grace and Standing in the Need of Prayer. This is preceded by a short devotion by National Lutheran Choir director David Cherwien, as he discusses the social unrest in the country now and the Black Lives Matter movement. Please click on the link and listen to these timely words from this wonderful music maker, and sing along with the choir.

Are you tired of being told what you can do, where you are allowed to go and what precautions you must take? It can seem like life as we were accustomed to experiencing it with family and friends, celebrating birthdays, weddings and anniversaries are only a memory.

Separation and isolation seem to have become the new norm. These past months have been hard and perhaps we wonder where is God? I feel so alone, so separated.

Well the Christians in Rome in Paul's time had those same feeling. They were isolated and oppressed and facing much more than missing a family gathering, their very lives were in danger. They wondered where was God and Paul put their concerns in the form of a question "Who can separate us from the love of Christ" (Rm 8:35) and then went on to answer that question. "I am sure that neither death nor life nor angels nor rulers nor things present nor things to come.... will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord" (Rm 8:38-39).

In these trying time let us remember that nothing can separate us from the unfailing love of God. While we may feel alone, isolated one reality remains. Nothing in all creation can be separated from God's love. There is no social distancing or limitation on God's love. Through our Lord Jesus we are together without limitations.

PORTALS OF PRAYER If you would like the July/August Portals of Prayer, please call (931-2225 x230) or email Lynn at (lwaldeck@trinityhicksville.org). We will gladly mail one to you.

We are in need of grocery store gift cards to send to those who need help through this difficult time. If you can help by mailing in a grocery store, Wal-Mart, or Target card, it would be most appreciated! If you wish to make a donation please mark it for food baskets. Thank you so much!

Honoring the Past, Serving the Present, Providing for the Future

As we approach the summer, Trinity's Capital Campaign Committee would like to thank those of you who have supported and pledged funds to our Honor, Serve, Provide capital fundraising effort. Over 120 of you have made one to three-year pledges. 88 of you have completed your pledges while others continue to make their weekly, monthly and quarterly payments. Our three-year goal of $210,000 has been surpassed. Thanks to pledges, donations and memorial gifts we have now reached a total of more than $249,000.

We thank you all for your contributions as they have afforded Trinity the ability to maintain our buildings and grounds and make serious, and in some cases, long overdue improvements.

We will continue to update you on the progress of these last-mentioned projects as we approach the upcoming school year.

Every one of these endeavors has been accomplished by our Board of Properties who has its own list of additional undertakings. This group of dedicated volunteer members of Trinity are truly a godsend. We could not have accomplished half of the projects listed above without their talents, persistence and dedication. We are grateful beyond words to: John Haines, Warren Breuer, Rich Evans, Scott Hare, Ed Kuck, Matt Musumeci, Carl Osmundsen, Dan Pugliese and Fred Von Bargaen.

Dear Trinity Families and Friends,

So much has happened in the world and at Trinity since I arrived one year ago!

I am pleased to report that we made it through the year, and not only did we make it, but the educational experience we provided, during this unprecedented time, was done with excellence, dedication, creativity and care. Thanks to extraordinary efforts and distance learning, the students in K-8 received their full academic program, including their special subjects. Our Early Childhood Center teachers and staff also worked diligently to post curriculum online, host Zoom sessions with the children, and provide special videos to maintain connections and foster learning. While the teachers and staff are to be commended for their efforts, the parents, caregivers, and students are to be applauded as well. Everyone's accomplishments were really nothing short of miraculous in light of the adjustments we all faced which included working from home to the more serious issues of illness and death.

The three months of being apart made our 8th grade graduation on June 19 even more special. The ceremony was held in the Trinity parking lot and was executed with all the pomp and circumstance, excitement, and spiritual focus that are typical of this celebration. This year's class was an exceptional group of young people, and they received words of wisdom from Pastor, our many presenters, and most especially from our guest speaker, Mrs. Jennifer Forte.

Our annual summer program now called Trinity's Summer STARS (Science, Technology, Art, Religion, and Sports) will be a virtual summer program that will begin on July 6 and end on August 14. A letter about the summer program is on the next page in this newsletter and there are links for a description of the program, what is being offered, and registration information.

Now our task is to figure out the reopening of school in the fall. Yes, we will be reopening with face-to-face instruction. Also, we will be providing families with the option of keeping their children at home and participating with their class remotely, if they so choose.

All of what we accomplished this year, and especially in the last three months, would not have been possible without the support of Trinity's congregation and God's Grace and continued guidance. As we begin the summer and plan for the fall, I ask for your continued prayerful support

Yours in Christ,

Mary Leake

Greetings,

I hope this message finds you and your family well. My name is Bobby Stainkamp, and on behalf of myself and Cristina Smith I'd like to invite you to look at Trinity's Summer S.T.A.R.S. Virtual Summer Program. We know the safety of your family is the top priority during this time, however summer vacation can be a long stretch, especially with many camps and other programs remaining closed due to the national pandemic.

We are offering a safe and affordable alternative solution to traditional summer camp. Our program is designed to provide a wide variety of offerings which allows for the ultimate flexibility. Below there are links to our most current information flyer, and online registration form. We invite you to take a look, and if you have any questions please reach out to us.

Our program is designed to keep young minds stimulated and engaged. Two of the best features are the academic offerings in Math and ELA. We know online learning was hard. There is no question about that. Our goal with the academic portion is to provide a refresher course, which quickly goes over the material taught during the school year. This will help to fill in any gaps they may have occurred in your child's education, while making them feel prepared and ready for the next school year. This program is not designed to push students ahead, but to strengthen and reinforce the material that has already been learned.

Other offerings include: Sign Language, Science, ENL, No Bake Baking, Yoga, Zumba, and others. If you have any questions about our program, please reach out. Mrs. Smith and I are more than willing to answer any questions and to talk more about our program.

Thank You,

Bobby Stainkamp and Cristina Smith

The 2019 - 2020 school year has come to an end in Trinity's Early Childhood Center. While it is not the ending we could have ever dreamed of, I am happy to say that the children were still able to hear about the love of Jesus from the ECC teachers even during the time away. Isn't that a major part of our goal? The teachers were able to show that love through their actions as well as continue to teach about that love during Zoom classes or through stories and lessons.

Carolyn Gallegos,
ECC Director

On Friday, June 12th, the Pre-K teachers were able to visit each child's home. This would have been the day of the Pre-K closing program and graduation. The teachers delivered lawn-signs, t-shirts, a summer bridge book, as well as some other goodies. The children enjoyed the visits as well as the teachers. We wish our Pre-K Graduates best of luck as they continue their educational journey in Kindergarten.

We begin to look ahead toward planning for the 2020-2021 school year. Trinity's ECC staff absolutely can't wait to welcome back the children!

The staff of the Early Childhood Center wishes everyone a safe and healthy summer filled with lots of memories made with loved ones!

... for the September 2020 issue are due no later than noon on Monday, August 24!

These days racism is being denounced as the greatest sin of America. Many solutions are being touted as the cure including education, violence, force, legislation, shaming, but the only real solution for racism or for any of the other many and equally deadly sins humankind is guilty of already lies within the church.

"For he himself is our peace, who has made us both one and has broken down in his flesh the dividing wall of hostility by abolishing the law of commandments expressed in ordinances, that he might create in himself one new man in place of the two, so making peace, and might reconcile us both to God in one body through the cross, thereby killing the hostility." Ephesians 2:14-16

Paul here speaks of the reconciliation of Jews with Gentiles. Because both Jews and Gentiles have been reconciled to God the Father by the death of Jesus Christ, both have been reconciled to each other. We have unity through the head of the body, Jesus. We relate to all believers only through Him. Each believer is one with Christ and, consequently, with every other believer in the Church, regardless of national or racial origin.

At Babel God confused the tongues of men to separate them. But at Pentecost, when the church was born, He brought men together by His Spirit. In the Church, assorted groups of people, once separated by religion, race, culture, family, nationality, and language, are united in Christ. In the church, all believers are equal. There is no place for division, prejudice, or elitism. In the church, God has reconciled the world through the sacrifice of Christ. The cross has overcome all the hostility that existed between God and man but also between man and man. The cross is the way of peace that reconciles each human being to each other. The church is the visible fruit of this reconciliation and the means through which it is achieved.

And so, the church is not to behave or think like the world. The church is called to be different. We are called to bring the good news of reconciliation to all the world, that in Christ all have have been reconciled to each other for all have been reconciled to God in Christ.

Reconciliation with God is the only way all people can be at peace with one another. While we faithful believers rightly denounce racism as evil, we should not be deceived by the devil or the world into thinking that it is the worst sin as much of our nation seems to think. The greatest sin, the one which will guarantee God's punishment is the rejection of Jesus Christ as our sin offering. Racism is but one of a myriad of sins human beings want to overlook, deny, and hide from God: abortion, sexual immorality, violence, lying, greed, cheating, and hypocrisy, just to name a few. We should be outraged that all without faith are bound for eternal punishment in Hell unless they repent and come to faith in Jesus as their sin-offering. It is our calling to tell them about reconciliation in Christ with love, compassion, gentleness, humility and understanding.

God bless America, land that I love
Stand beside her and guide her
Through the night with the light from above
From the mountains to the prairies
To the oceans white with foam
God bless America, my home sweet home
God bless America, my home sweet home

Songwriter: Irving Berlin
God Bless America lyrics © Concord Music Publishing LLC

Have a Healthy and Safe Independence Day!!

"Good Teacher, what must I do to inherit eternal life?" asked the rich young ruler. Jesus said, "You know the commandments." And the ruler replied, "All these I have kept from my youth." And Jesus said to him, "One thing you still lack. Sell all that you have and distribute to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me." Luke 18:18-22

Is Jesus speaking to us also or only to the rich young ruler? Is Jesus telling us to sell all that we have and give it to the poor? As good Lutherans, we answer: No! But why? Why should we not sell all that we have and distribute it to the poor?

The simplest explanation is this: If we sold everything we have, our wife and our children would be neglected. To sell everything we have and give it to the poor would ignore, even abandon, those whom God has placed in our care. Our money, everything we have, is not to be used solely for the church. It is to be used for the purpose God intends.

Everyone has 3 stations in life, 3 spheres in which we live and are to be of service to our neighbors: the church, the family, and society. We are members of all three of these by birth.

- We are born into the church by water and the Word of God, and our duties to others in the church arise from our birth into the church or the birth of others by Baptism into it.
- We are born into a family, and our duties to others stem from either our birth into that family or the birth of others into our family.
- We are born into society, a further extension our family.

All that we have and all that we are is to be pressed into service for the church, the family, and society. If we were to sell all we have and give only to one, the other two would be neglected, and our duties toward them would falter.

So consider your life and all that you have in light of these three stations. You pay taxes to support and help those in society. You provide food, clothing, and shelter for the members of your family. You save for college for your children.

Unfortunately, since the needs of the family and society are more immediate, the church is often given what is left over. This is not how it should be. Rather, we are to give of our first fruits even as Abel gave the best of his flock.

This requires forethought and intent. It means that you sit down and make a plan for what you will give from the beginning. It means sticking to it even when it seems there are other more immediate and pressing things.

This is even more necessary now as we are in a time while giving is low due to high unemployment and restrictions on meeting in church. If we love God, his gifts of forgiveness given through the means of grace we receive at church and only at church, then we will support the church just as we love our country and our family.

For all that we have and all that we are is given to us by our gracious and giving God. He spared no expense for us and our salvation. He gave up His Son into death so that our sins are forgiven, and we will live. What is more, He provides for all that we need for this body and life. And our lives in this world, among these three spheres of the church, the family, and society, are to mirror the generosity of the one who gave us life in all three by birth.

Don't let the church, your divine family, be ignored or even an afterthought. The church is nurturing you, bringing you up in salvation by Word and Sacrament for eternal life.

Seeking Wisdom in a Time of Losses

By Molly W. Blancke, LCC Executive Director

Many people, including several of our counselors, have tried to put the insecurities and anxieties of the last few months into words, hoping that their words will bring greater understanding and therefore, be of comfort in such trying times. During this COVID pandemic, we are all suffering losses; some are the same and others different, depending on our circumstances.

We are all experiencing a loss of confidence in what we know as 'normal' in our lives, a loss of the sense of control over our lives and loss of the ability to be present physically to others, as before, when often needed most. Due to the effects of COVID, some of us are also experiencing painful loss of loved ones, loss of income, loss of jobs, loss of celebration of momentous occasions, or a loss in career or our perceived roles in life.

However, these losses do not have to be without hope or even, sometimes, without invaluable lessons. In his incredibly insightful book about facing devastating loss, A Grace Disguised, Jerry Sittser talks about the regrets that always accompany losses. Sittser lost his wife, mother and four year old daughter all at once in a tragic automobile crash, an accident that was caused by a drunk driver. He states: "People can be changed by the unchangeable losses they experience. Thus, for redemption to occur, they must let go of the loss itself and embrace the good effects the loss can have on their lives.....In other words, they must seek personal transformation, which comes only by grace." Elsewhere, he notes, "The gift of divine forgiveness will help us forgive ourselves. Without it, regret becomes a form of self-punishment".

Don't allow the regrets you may feel about the losses you have sustained to control your life. God can forgive any regrets you may have, giving you the space and ability to forgive yourself. He can provide the grace needed to allow self-kindness and gentleness in dealing with the losses so that transformation can eventually occur.

It is important to seek the help of others if you cannot do this on your own. Seeking a Christian faith-based mental health counselor to help you deal with losses incurred means having someone to listen and help you sort out your feelings as well as to remind you of God's unconditional love as evidenced at many times during your life. It requires courage and the desire to change. He or she can provide the objective viewpoint and at the same time, be there to walk with you through the painful parts of the losses.

Our caring counselors are still providing safe, confidential virtual counseling sessions. Please reach out if we can help you.

For more information or to set an appointment, call LCC at 1-800-317-1173. For safety, all sessions are provided using a secure, HIPAA compliant virtual video and/or audio platform.
